

WALL STREET JOURNAL
18 March 1981

What's News—

Curbs on the CIA won't be eased as much as a proposed presidential order suggests, Attorney General Smith told a Senate subcommittee. He said, for instance, that his office would retain authority over surveillance in the U.S. The proposed order is only a draft, he stated.